Updated CMS-1500 Form

Starting January 6, DMAP will be accepting both the 2/12 and 8/05 versions of the CMS-1500 claim form, with plans to only accept the 2/12 version starting April 1, 2014. If you need to submit paper claims to DMAP, please make sure you are able to submit the 2/12 version of the CMS-1500 starting April 1. If you also bill a Coordinated Care Organization (CCO) or OHP medical plan, check with the plan on when they will start accepting the 2/12 form.

CCare Insurance Billing Policy Reminder

Reminder: beginning February 17, 2014 CCare claims will be rejected from the Ahlers system in the situation where a client has indicated having private insurance on the enrollment form, but no dollar amount paid or explanation code is provided with the claim. The reject explanation/error message will read as follows: REJECT: PVT INS FROM WEB IS YES BUT 17A IS BLANK

Please review the attached Insurance Billing Policy for further detail. Manual pages C5-3 through C5-4, C Exhibit 10, and D3-23 through D3-24 have been updated and reformatted to reflect this new policy. Please replace the pages in your Program Manual to reflect these changes. You can download and print all Manual changes from the RH Program Manual Change Log located on our website on the Provider Resources page.

Title X Annual Plan for Reproductive Health

This year the annual plan for Reproductive Health is included within the larger plan/assessment being sent from the Office of Community Liaison. As a reminder, information to help complete the RH plan for your agency is located on our website.

Order CCare Valentine’s Cards for February!

Roses are red, Violets are blue, order your Valentine’s Day cards now, and your clients will thank you! These 4.25” x 5.50” colorful cards come in 8.5” x 11” sheets that are perforated for easy separation (see attached). They were so popular last year that we are making them available again this year. In fact, the IUD card image was one of the most popular images posted on our CCare Facebook site in 2013. To order your cards in time to give clients for Valentine’s Day, email Lesli Uebel at lesli.l.uebel@state.or.us.

New HCPCS Code for Skyla™

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) have recently updated the HCPCS code for the Skyla™ contraceptive device. Starting February 1, 2014, please use code Q0090 (not J3490) to bill for Skyla™

DMAP plans to open Q0090 for payment in mid-January 2014, but will accept both J3490 and Q0090 for billing Skyla™ until January 31. Starting February 1, both CCare and OHP claims for Skyla™ billed under code J3490 will be denied.

Respectful Interactions: Disability Language and Etiquette Course

If you work in an organization that serves the public, you may need to consider this question: How can you build a commitment to ensure that none of your customers, clients, or employees experience discrimination based on having a disability? This online course is specifically designed by Northwest ADA center to help organizations improve communication with and respect for people with disabilities. See attached flyer for more information.
Male Services Community of Practice

The Family Planning National Training Center for Services Delivery (NTC) would like to invite you to participate in the piloting of a new Community of Practice (CoP) for male reproductive health services in 2014. Title X Service Sites who are interested in expanding (and sharing) their knowledge and questions about how to implement (and improve) services to men are encouraged to join this forum. Cardea is offering a webinar on January 29th Implementing Male Services which will introduce the CoP forum.

See attached invitation for more information.

Healthy Weight and Development Tool

A new tool entitled Promoting Healthy Weight and Development in Early Childhood is now available from the Center for Prevention and Health Promotion. Please see the attached letter from Center Administrator, Jae Douglas, for details. While this information is not specific to Reproductive Health, we feel that it could be very useful in your agency and community. The tool is available at www.healthoregon.org/chc.

eHealth Eligibility Assessment Tool

Clinicians can use the new interactive eHealth Eligibility Assessment Tool to help determine if they are an “eligible professional” for these eHealth programs: Medicaid and Medicare EHR Incentive Program, Physician Feedback/Value-Based Payment Modifier Program, Physician Quality Reporting System (PQRS), Maintenance of Certification Program Incentive.

Free Resources Help Patients Stick to Their Prescriptions.

With free educational tools from the Food and Drug Administration and the Script Your Future Campaign, health care providers can help their patients and communities keep track of their prescriptions and when to take them. Order your free resources in bulk today.
