

Sharing immunization and exemption rates for your school/children's facility and your county

What do I need to share?

A new law requires schools and children's facilities to share their immunization and exemption rates for each vaccine. You must also share your county's immunization rates.

Where do I share these rates?

Rates must be available in three places:

- On the school or children's facility website (and on district websites for public schools),
- In the main office (or a central location if you don't have a main office), and
- To parents in paper or electronic format (for example, sent as part of a newsletter or email).

When do I need to share this information?

The law requires this information to be shared twice a year:

- Within 30 days of the start of school, and
- Within 30 days after Exclusion Day (the third Wednesday in February)

Do I have to share these rates ?

All schools, preschools, Head Starts and certified child care programs must share these rates if there are 10 or more children in your adjusted enrollment on the Immunization Primary Review Summary, Section E (child care, preschool, Head Start or schools with preK) or Section H* (schools with any grades K-12).

I haven't calculated my immunization and exemption rates yet this year. What should I do?

You can share the immunization and exemption rates for last year. These rates are available here: www.healthoregon.org/immdata. Follow the instructions on the website to make a graph of your immunization and exemption rates that you can share. If you use an approved computer system for immunization tracking, look for an immunization rate report in this system.
