

Hub/CCO Collaboration Narrative Submission Form

September 1, 2016

Background

The Oregon Health Authority (OHA) and Early Learning Division (ELD) are soliciting stories that describe Coordinated Care Organization (CCO)/Early Learning Hub partnerships of all types and at all stages of development. This is an opportunity to build upon research conducted by a graduate student at the University of Oregon during spring term of 2016, which you may have participated in through a survey or key informant interview.

All submitted narratives will be included in a handbook of collaboration strategies and tools informed by Hub/CCO partnerships and learnings from around the state. This handbook will be shared with all Hubs and CCOs in Oregon.

Narratives must be submitted jointly by Hub and CCO partners with this page filled out and attached.

Please check here if you do NOT want your submission to be shared in other venues (for example, ELD newsletters, OHA Early Childhood Systems Alignment website)

The goal of these narratives is to step away from a focus on specific projects and to demonstrate the key qualities that drive your collaboration and describe key learnings and “aha” moments that other communities can learn from and build upon. Submissions should take a “story” form with a beginning, middle and end/future steps.

Submissions should be no longer than 600 words and should address the following questions:

- What was the original motivation for collaboration between your Hub & CCO/how did collaboration come about?
- What conditions or elements have been key to the development of this partnership?
- What has sustained the collaboration over time? If your partnership is very new, what do you think will sustain the collaboration going forward?
- What challenges have you encountered and how have you addressed those?
- What does each organization bring to the table to support the collaboration?
- What progress have you seen in the last year?
- What are the next steps you plan to take together?

Submissions may be edited for clarity, and OHA/ELD staff may follow up with you for additional information and review.

Please submit your narrative to Liz Stuart, OHA Child Systems Collaboration Coordinator, at elizabeth.m.stuart@state.or.us by October 15th, 2016.
